Hixon Electric Company

Dear Mr. Hixon:

On the twenty-sixth of November we received a letter from Mr. King stating that certain specifications must be drawn up concerning the installation of a radio station before licensed engineers can bid on this project. Mr. King further stated that you would be willing to draw up these specifications for a fee ranging from one hundred to two hundred dollars and that this fee would include inspection of the completed system. We have conferred with Mrs. Cook who agreed with us that we should write to you for full information about the necessary specifications. The Student Government is unable to grant us any money until we receive these specifications. We would, therefore, like to know the exact nature of the specifications, the length of time required to draw up such plans, and the specific services to be included in the inspection of the system when installed.

This letter gives us an opportunity to thank you once more for your kindness in giving us so much of your time when you were in Northampton on November 4. We have great hopes for a station here on campus, and we would appreciate your answers to the above questions so that we may use them as a basis for furthering our plans.

Sincerely,

Marjorie Boselly
